Friends By using these methods you can promote any companies products like snapdeal,flipkart,myntra and many more but here i will tell you about amazon only.

Amazon Affiliate is a free to join programme where you can promote their products.You can signup for this and can choose products from their product listing.After This whenever a user will purchase products from amazon using your link then you will get some commision.Your earning will be credited to your personal bank account.For This Please Follow Below Steps :

1. HowTo Signup for Amazon Affiliates Programme ?

To join amazon affiliate :

1. visit amazon affiliate
2. click on Join Now For Free button and fill required information.
3. verify your email address and you are done.

or if you are already a member then you can login to your account.On your dashboard you will see A search bar to search amazon products.here you can search for products for example : jbl go bluetooth speaker .After Searching this you can see a lots of jbl speakers in search list.

You can see a Get Link button in front of every product. Just Click on Its down arrow and a popup window will appear containing selected product link and your affiliate id. Click on Shorten URL with amzn.to?

and you will get a short URL for example : <http://amzn.to/2uMkhg3>

So this is how you can generate products links from amazon affiliate. Now The Next Thing :

How To Promote Amazon Product Links ?

So Friends now you have your product link and you just have to promote it. There are two methods to promote links

1. Paid Methods like google ads, facebook ads, bing ads etc even you can create a site to promote these type of links.
2. Free Methods like youtube, free websites from wordpress, blogger. The best and effective till date.

In this post i will only tell you about free methods of product promoting.

1. Free Promotion by Youtube :

As i told youtube is the best free method to promote products among your subscribers and viewers and you can earn good money threw this. Let me Teach you by an example :

Suppose you are promoting a product name samsung galaxy on7 pro . So what you have to do is just create one video describing its features, price and feedback . By the it is not necessary that you own this product. All you can do is collect some good picture from google and make a video from it or search some videos on youtube or internet related to samsung galaxy on7 pro and download 5-6 videos. Cut some Clips from that videos and make your own one. Ta Da You video is ready ! But remove audio from that videos and use your own voice to avoid copyright claims. You can make a simple video of 2-3 minutes if you are not able to create a long one.
