

if you are working on magento then you know very well then cart items that are added by your customers automatically deleted after 24 minutes. If you are frustrated from this magento default behavior and want to kick out this fix timing then this article is for you. Keep reading till the end.

Here are the things to look for to increase/decrease Magento's session cookie lifetime.

In your php.ini file:

session.gc_maxlifetime 86400

If you have not changed this, it should be by default 1440 i.e. 24 minutes. Change it to 86400 for one day session lifetime.
